

THE COLLEGE AT BROCKPORT
AMERICAN DEMOCRACY PROJECT PRESENTS

Josh Fox director of the Oscar[®]-nominated film

GASLAND

April 28, 2011

The College at Brockport
Edwards Hall (Blue Room)
Holley Street, Brockport

6 pm Free screening of "Gasland"
7:45 Q&A with Josh Fox

About the Film

The largest domestic natural gas drilling boom in history has swept across the country, but is it safe? "Gasland" looks at the Halliburton-developed system to extract natural gas trapped in the rocks under our feet.

When filmmaker Josh Fox is asked to lease his land for drilling, he embarks on a cross-country odyssey uncovering a trail of what he calls, "...secrets, lies and contamination." Don't miss this unique opportunity to hear from the director himself.

American Democracy Project

Free and open to the public.
For additional information, visit the ADP website
www.brockport.edu/adp/pdss.html

The College at BROCKPORT
STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK