

DEPARTMENT OF ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCE AND BIOLOGY

Fishery Techniques and Fish Identification (ENV 590)

Prerequisite: ENV 303. Introduction to laboratory and field techniques used by fisheries scientists. Hands-on activities include fish collection methods (electrofishing, nets) fish anatomy, fish identification, and quantitative analysis of fisheries data. ENV 484 is the complementary lecture course. 2 Cr. Fall