Graduate Continuous Enrollment Policy

Continuous enrollment requires, at a minimum, the completion of one graduate level course each 12 months. A matriculated student who discontinues enrollment, unless granted a leave of absence, will lose matriculated status and must reapply for readmission. Should readmission be offered at that time, the applicant must then meet any new requirements for admission, as well as any new requirements for the degree at the time of readmission (See Readmission to Graduate Level Policy).
