

CALL FOR DIALOGUES 2018

6th Biennial

SENECA FALLS DIALOGUES

October 19-21, 2018

RACE AND INTERSECTING FEMINIST FUTURES

The biennial Dialogues are a collaborative effort to reinvigorate Seneca Falls as a site of feminist activism and intellectual exchange. We invite students, activists, community members, artists, and educators to propose group-led sessions that involve active audience participation and focused discussion. Proposals should indicate how organizers will present information, pose questions, and facilitate activities and conversation. Dialogues are welcome to address the themes listed here. While this list is not exhaustive, we are looking for sessions that integrate the conference theme of race into the proposal. A focus on pedagogy is valued but not essential.

- Intersectional Resistance and Activism
- Black Lives Matter
- Immigration, Refugees, and Border-Crossing
- Indigenous Sovereignty and Activism
- Queering Racial Justice
- Transfeminisms
- Race and the Legacy of Seneca Falls
- Digital Spaces
- Popular Culture and Representations
- Feminism, Race, and the Arts
- Women of Color on the Margin of Traditional Feminist Movements
- Constructions of Disability

Proposal Deadline: April 30, 2018.
