RE: Determination of the Quality Credit Index (Faculty Senate Resolution of Nov. 8, 1971)

I have reviewed the resolution on quality credit index with the academic deans. As a result of that review, I recommend that the only change needed to make the resolution acceptable is deletion of the phrase "after withdrawal in good standing" and substitution of "after withdrawal with a 2.0 cumulative grade index."

MEETING ON Nov. 5, 1972

SUBJECT: Determination of the Quality Credit Index

For students readmitted to the College after withdrawal in good standing (or after successful completion of a non-degree program) who have earned no credits at Brockport during the five years immediately preceding readmission, the quality credit index shall be computed on the basis of credits earned after such readmission.

REPORT TO THE FACULTY SENATE
from the Committee on Undergraduate Policies

Proposed Amendment of Policy on the Determination of the Quality Credit Index

Students currently pursuing a baccalaureate degree at Brockport shall have their quality credit index determined only on the basis of credits earned at this institution and at the Consortium Colleges at Cortland, Geneseo, and Oswego. With the exception of credits earned under the consortium agreement, all transfer credits are accepted only as credit; the grades for these transfer credits are not included in the computation of the quality credit index.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT

For students readmitted to the College after withdrawal in good standing (or after successful completion of a non-degree program), who have earned no credits at Brockport during the five years immediately preceding readmission, the quality credit index shall be computed on the basis of credits earned after such readmission.

Comment

The first paragraph is a re-statement of existing policy. The amendment deals with the exceptional cases of students continuing their studies after a prolonged absence. Currently, transferred credits do not figure in quality credit index computations. Also, in the case of a student readmitted after being dismissed for academic reasons, only those credits previously earned with a grade of C or better are accepted toward degree requirements, and no previously earned quality credits are included in the computation of the quality credit index. This policy amendment would establish a similar basis for the computation of quality credit indices for students who are readmitted after a 5 years' or longer absence following withdrawal in good standing or the completion of a non-degree program. The five years' time is admittedly arbitrary, but the committee agreed that five years reflects a period during which both the individual student and the institution would have undergone significant changes.

Recommended action: Your committee recommends that the Senate adopt this amendment.
