Current Program: MS in Education: Secondary English Education 7-12
Revised Program: MS in Education: Adolescence English Education 7-12

Description in Graduate Catalog—Previously Registered Program
This program leads to permanent English 7-12 certification. The Plan of Study must include at least four courses in each of two areas: 1.) liberal arts and 2.) professional education. To meet the requirements for permanent certification, students are required to take courses in the following areas: Measurement and Evaluation, Reading and Responding to Literature K-12, Teaching Writing Composition K-12, and Project/Thesis Seminar for English Education.

Description for Reregistered Program
This program leads to professional (and, under certain conditions, permanent) English 5-12 certification. The Plan of Study must include at least 4 courses in liberal arts (English) and five in professional education (English education). To meet the requirements for professional certification, students are required to take courses that cover teaching the following areas: Measurement and Evaluation, Reading and Responding to Literature K-12, Teaching Writing Composition K-12, Issues in English Education, and Project/Thesis Seminar for English Education.

President
Faculty Senate
SUNY College at Brockport

Dear Mr. President:

We are required by The State Department of Education to submit revised 33-hour Master of Science Degree programs for professional certification in the following areas:

- Childhood Education
  - Childhood Education with Bilingual Extension (30-Hour Master’s Degree Program)
- Adolescence Education, including English Education, Mathematics Education, Science Education, and Social Studies Education.

The proposals that we are submitting to the Faculty Senate contain minor revisions and, basically, are the same programs that currently exist, with three exceptions: a new course in English Education, a new course in Childhood Education, and a new course in Bilingual (Spanish). All other courses are exactly the same.

Please find in the packet of proposals the following:

1. Completed Faculty Senate Proposal Covers for each of the above-mentioned programs.
2. Side-by-Side Comparisons of old and new programs.
3. Rationale for the changes.
4. Evidence of demand for the new focus or emphasis.
5. Potential clientele.
6. Description of new courses.
7. Staffing issues.
8. Academic Administration commentary.
9. Resources and facilities needed to initiate the programs.
10. Competition from other Rochester area colleges.

Sincerely,

William R. Veenis, Jr.
Interim Chairperson
Additional Information and Explanations

Faculty Senate Proposal Cover Letter

Included in proposal packet.

Side-by-Side Comparisons of the Old and New Programs

Included in proposal packet.

Rationale for Changes

The only changes to the programs are the three courses, EDI 678 Issues in English Education, EDI 600 Understanding Educational Research, and EDI 6XX Bilingual Methods of Teaching Content Areas. Two of these courses were added so that the English Education and Childhood programs could, like the other MS Education programs, have courses that are pre-requisites for EDI 791 and EDI 703, the culminating project/thesis courses. A 50-hour practicum experience will now be required for students in the Bilingual (Spanish) program.

Evidence of Demand for the New Emphasis or Focus

Graduate students find it difficult to complete the project or thesis in a timely manner. Part of their problem is that they haven’t given much thought to the subject of their project or thesis until the day that they register for the course. The pre-requisite course is intended to have them start thinking about and doing some preliminary research on a topic of interest.

Potential Clientele

These would be the same as they have always been: Teachers who must complete the master’s degree as one requirement for professional certification.

Description of New Courses

EDI 678 Issues in English Education: Examines contemporary instructional, curricular, and assessment issues. Combines theory and practice in a manner designed to lead students toward formulating their culminating master’s projects or theses. 3 Credits.

EDI 600 Understanding Educational Research

Students will learn about qualitative and quantitative methods of doing research in education and will examine action research. Students will learn about qualitative and quantitative research in education through examination of action research that pertains to their own teaching and their action research interests. As a component of each course, students will do an action research project related to their discipline. Students will formulate their own action research question for possible use with their project/thesis and develop a literature review for the question, including an evaluation of the research they are reading. 3 Cr.

EDI 6## Bilingual Methods of Teaching Content Areas
Must include a 50-hour practicum experience. Suggested that students rotate through classrooms teaching lessons in the 4 primary content areas of Childhood Education. Optional practicum is now required. Course will be developed.

Staffing Issues

Full-time and part-time faculty, as they have always been, will staff the courses. The pre-requisite and culminating courses will be staffed with full-time faculty. There will be no additional staffing needs for this program.

Academic Administration Commentary

Letter of Review/Comment from the Chair – Included in the proposal packet.
Letter of Review/Comment from the Dean of the School of Professions – Included in the proposal packet.

Letters of Support from Cooperating Departments

Because the revisions to the proposed programs are considered minor, no letters of support have been requested. Students would still have to satisfactorily complete 12-15 credits in their major or relevant liberal arts discipline.

Competition from other Rochester Area Colleges

Many more graduate students apply to Brockport’s MS Certification Programs than are always accepted. We traditionally matriculate between forty and fifty graduate students for each of the two registration periods every year. There is no evidence that anything would change.
